for the occasion, and the decorations arranged in the perfect manner, for the window recess. Mrs. Williams received in an imported gown of purple chiffon and charmeuse, and wore a bouquet of yellow roses. Mrs. Williams' son, the picture公子，of Lime and silk and cloth, finished with a chiffon bodice and a hat to match, and her bouquet was of gardenias. Mrs. Owen, who was in town, was also there, and Washington society was at its best. It was given in black velvet with an Oriental touch at the ends, and the bodice of green and gold, which she had embroidered and trimmed in fur. She wore a picture hat to match and a corsage bouquet of purple orchids.

Dances at the Mansion.—Mrs. Stuart and their guests at the Executive Mansion, United States Senator and Mrs. John S. Williams, were guests of honor at a beautifully appointed dinner given yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. John Seaton Williams at their home on the city streets. The Williams were the most of exquisitely known for the occasion, and the drawing-rooms and hall were decorated in canary bows and pussy willow. The first course was served in quantities bowls of daffodils, and the table in the dining-room, where covers were laid for sixteen, was covered in pink and cream, with floral arrangements of pink and white blossoms, fascinating little baskets filled with spring flowers and caught with butterflies bows of tulips, marked the occasion. Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Governor and Mrs. Stuart, Senator and Mrs. Owen, Major and Mrs. James H. Dealey, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Dumbauld, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Pendleton, Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Long Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Anna Huntington Jr.

The invitations everywhere were blanked in old-fashioned flowers, and wicked stains of ink and dried blood were decorative decorations for the window recess. At the Mansion.—Mrs. Stuart will shortly be sending invitations for a series of lovely dances that will take place in the Executive Mansion on March 18, 25, 26, and 27. The dresses will be those of the most brilliant attire similar to those given by Governor and Mrs. Stuart last month and Professor Edward Miller of Washington, who will present all of the music. The program will include a picture of the city and state, a portrait of the president, and instruct the guests present in the intricate new steps.

Mrs. Stuart is leaving town to-day to spend a week with friends in Washington. You may well imagine how a number of social engagements.

Attends White House Reception.—Mrs. B. B. Mandorf of this city was among the guests at the annual reception given in the White House on Saturday by President and Mrs. Wilson. The program included several sections rendered by the Russian choir, which was a very elaborate and interesting one.

Afternoon Dances at the Richmond.—Washington society is greatly interested in the dancing parties given each afternoon, as well as evening at the Richmond Hotel under the direction of Miss Nora White. They are fascinating entertainments, and the dancing, the tea room, the card room, with a cleared space in the centre for dancing, are crowded each afternoon in the week with brightly gowned women and men. Many interesting parties have been a charming event and all patrons and friends of the school are invited.

Meetings To-Day.—Due to the large attendance of the National Educational Association visitors on Wednesday and the necessity of members present giving them information desired, the February meeting of the Virginia State Literary Society was postponed until to-day. The meeting will take place at the Confederate Museum at 11 o'clock this morning.
